

PSHCE and RSE Questionnaire for Parents/Carers

From September 2020 all primary schools have to teach children Relationships Education and Health Education. This expectation was delayed until this summer due to the pandemic. At Brickhill, we have been teaching most of required content for some time, as part of our PSHCE (Personal, Social, Health and Citizenship Education) lessons. In June, we will be beginning to teach our first Sex Education units of learning and we'd like to take this opportunity to reflect on what we do and to ask you for your views so that we can better meet the needs of all our children.

We combine some aspects of Relationships Education (families, healthy relationships, being safe) and Health Education (puberty, hygiene), along with Sex Education (teaching about human reproduction and birth) to create a topic called Relationships and Sex Education (RSE). Some of the questions are about RSE.

Please visit our Relationships and Sex Education webpage to look at key information about the new statutory expectations and curriculum material. This will help you complete the survey.
